CHUCK LADD

This spaciouly designed home has an open concept with high ceilings and lots of character. The home has beautiful hickory hardwood floors, lots of tile and granite countertops. The custom built-in fireplace radiates a warm setting in the family room adjacent to the large kitchen, butler's pantry and formal dining room. Custom designs and features such as stack molded details around the interior door systems and all interior window systems highlight some of the extra effort put into creating this custom home.

Mark Stevenson of Northwest Construction would like to thank his entire crew for such an incredible job well done. Mark would also like to thank his clients, Darin and Shalynn, for all their input and energy that contributed to making this more than just a house, but an awesome home.

God Bless everyone involved in this creative process.
